Semcon receives order from a leading automotive manufacturer in Germany

Semcon is contracted to carry out the safety simulations for a future car platform. The assignment will be conducted by Semcon's Indian and German simulation experts and is worth EUR 0.6 million.

The order is clear proof that Semcon has a fully functioning global organization where customers see the value in our ability to provide quality.

Semcon's skill centre in India is continuing to develop, with the number of customers increasing locally and globally.
